

Privacy Policy

Minco is committed to protecting the privacy of visitors to our website and will not sell or provide any non-public personal information to anyone without your permission.

What Information We Collect

Minco collects general information and non-public personal information.

How We Collect Our Information

Minco collects our general information through the use of cookies and server-based tracking systems to view the usage of the website. Non-public personal information is collected through registration or contact forms on this site and will never be used for any purpose other than internal use or by our partners unless the registrant chooses to be added to mailing lists (this is a choice made by the registrant on the Registration form).

Types of Information Collected

Cookies: Cookies allow us to identify your computer without requiring your disclosure of any Non-Public Personal Information. Cookies make it possible to both store and retrieve information through your internet browser.

General Information: General information may include, without limitation: generic business type; SIC code; information derived from publicly available databases; user behavior on our Web site; and aggregated generic information.

Non-Public Personal Information: Non-public personal information is any non-public information you provide to us or our Partners that is proprietary or identifies or can be used to identify, contact, or locate you or someone at your business. Non-public personal information may include, without limitation: name; address; phone number; e-mail address; credit card number; account information; voting behavior; spending patterns; and individual tastes and preferences.

Email Addresses: When you become our customer and provide us with your email, you elect to opt-in unless otherwise stated. To opt-out, please email custserv@minco.com. We use this contact information to provide you with updates to the products, and our service to you our customer including email offers, product updates, requests for customer feedback, promotions, and other marketing needs. We do not sell these lists to any vendor or other third parties. This information is important to us and is not used for purposes other than providing excellent customer relations.

Privacy Policy Changes

Any changes to this privacy policy will be posted here and unless otherwise noted on our website.
